HYDE MAKES INSPECTION OF THE CANYON

Charles G. Hyde, sanitary expert for the state board of health, spent Wednesday studying the sewage and sanitation problem in Sierra Madre with special reference to the situation in Sierra Madre canyon. Mr. Hyde is a sanitary and hydraulic engineer and a member of the engineering faculty of the state university at Berkeley. He is making a tour of the southern part of the state, inspecting conditions at various places where problems have arisen.

In studying the Sierra Madre situation Mr. Hyde was accompanied by Mayor Blumer, City Engineer Bixby, Water Superintendent Biederman, Dr. Mackerras, chairman of the board of health, and various other members of the city's official family. They visited the city's water tunnels and land in the canyon above the Collins subdivision, inspected the latter thoroughly and studied the arroyo of the Little Santa Anita as far south as Arcadia. Mr. Hyde took copious notes and photographs and gave attention to every known factor in the matter of water supply and drainage, both above and below the surface of the ground. Later he was taken on a tour of inspection of the rest of the city.

To Make Written Report

Mr. Hyde is expected to submit a written report on the sewage problem, making definite recommendations from his analysis of the investigation. The most important thing at issue is the question of whether canyon residents shall be permitted to put down cesspools on their property or whether a sewage disposal system of some sort must be installed.

When Mr. Collins subdivided the canyon property he announced to the city authorities and to prospective buyers that he would install a sewer system and septic tank. Later he changed his mind and advised all property owners in the canyon to install cesspools, pointing to the city ordinance requiring a cesspool for every dwelling house on its own lot. The board of health and other city officials felt that cesspools in the canyon would tend to contaminate the water supply of the city wells in the arroyo near Central avenue. They maintained that there is a direct underground flow or seepage down the channel from the canyon toward the pumping station. They claimed the distance was too short for purification, considering the quantity of contamination which would be introduced into the water when from 200 to 400 houses are built in the canyon. There was no desire to work a hardship on anyone but they felt that protection of the public health demanded every precaution regarding the water supply. Several conferences between city officials and canyon property owners failed to bring harmony and an appeal was made to the state board of health for advice. When Mr. Hyde's report is received they feel that they have competent authority upon which to determine the proper course of action.

GET BUSY

It seems an odd thing to me that so many men feel that they haven't any time for politics; can't put in even a little, trying to see how their cities (let alone their states and the country) are run. When we have a war, look at the millions of volunteers that lay down everything and answer the call of the country. Well, in politics, the country needs all the men who have any patriotism—not to be seeking office, but to watch and to understand what is going on. It doesn't take a great deal of time; you can attend to your business and do that much, too. When wrong things are going on and all the good men understand them, that is all that is needed. The wrong things stop going on.—Booth Tarkington.

Six Rules to Observe to Prevent Disastrous Fires in the Mountains

RULES TO PREVENT MOUNTAIN FIRES

Precautions of the simplest kind would eliminate most of the loss resulting from forest fires, as shown by reports on the causes of the fires in the reserves last season.

Much could be accomplished by observance of the following six simple rules:

1. Be sure your match is out before you throw it away.
2. Knock out your pipe ashes or throw away your cigar or cigarette stump where there is nothing to catch fire.
3. Don't build a camp fire any larger than is absolutely necessary. Never leave it even for a short time without putting it OUT with water or dirt.
4. Don't build a camp fire against a tree or a log. Build a small one where you can scrape away the needles, leaves or grass from all sides of it.
5. If you discover a fire, put it out if possible; if you can't put it out, get word to the nearest U. S. forest ranger or state fire warden just as quickly as you possibly can.

FRUIT MEN COMING

State Horticultural Commissioner Cook has announced that there will be some of the most talented speakers in the United States at the next or 45th State Fruit Growers' Convention, which will be held in Los Angeles November 9-14, 1914. The Horticultural Commission and a committee of arrangements have been at work for nearly two months planning for the "Greatest Ever."

In fact, there will be practically four great assemblies. The first two days of the week will be given over to the State Association of County Horticultural Commissioners, of which Harry P. Stabler of Yuba City is President and R. S. Valle of Santa Paula is Secretary.

On Wednesday morning the State Convention proper in charge of Dr. Cook, E. O. Essig, Secretary, will open. These sessions will be in the old State Normal building, near the center of the city of Los Angeles. The Woman's Department of the State Fruit Growers' Convention will be another popular feature. These sessions will be held in the parlors of the Hotel Clark, which will be convention headquarters. One of the larger of the parlors has a seating capacity of four hundred. The work of the Woman's Department is in charge of Miss Lillian D. Clark, Assistant Agricultural Extension, University of California.

Another great feature of the convention will be an exhibit made by the Southern California Citrus Experiment Station staff, Dr. H. J. Webber, Director. Dr. Webber and his entire staff are entering into plans for the coming convention. In fact, it is a combination of the forces of the State Horticultural Commission, the State University—especially the Experiment Station—and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

RECITAL MUCH ENJOYED

Sidney F. Hoben had a lecture appreciative audience for his lecture-recital yesterday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Krebs. Mr. Hoben opened his program with piano selections from composers of various schools, in which he displayed remarkable technique and delightful skill at interpretation. He then gave selections from Wolff-Ferrari's opera, "The Jewels of the Madonna," with descriptive remarks. The opera being one of recent composition, the music was unfamiliar to most of those present, but made a universal appeal, as interpreted by Mr. Hoben. His history of the composition and early vicissitudes of the piece, with the narrative of the action, added greatly to the interest. Following the program, Mrs. Krebs served delicious punch and the company enjoyed an inspection of the beautiful grounds and of the wonderful view from the balcony. More than sixty enjoyed the event, many of them being from Los Angeles and Pasadena.

FOREST FIRE FICTION

The theory that glass bottles serve to focus the sun's rays in such a way as to cause forest and brush fires is current in California. It may, therefore, be news to many to learn that in the course of seven years study of the causes of fires in this state the Forest Service has never been able to find a single instance in verification of the theory. Furthermore, experiments have been conducted by forest officers for the express purpose of verifying it, but so far without success.

It is possible, of course, that by careful manipulation a fire could be so ignited. Forester Du Bois says he feels quite safe in saying that as a cause of forest fires the glass bottle is a negligible factor. Aside from lightning, almost every fire must be ascribed to some more direct human causes.

TO MEET MR. HYDE

Dr. R. H. Mackerras was the host at a delightful little stag affair Wednesday evening when he invited a few friends in to meet Charles Gilman Hyde of the engineering faculty of the University of California. After enjoying the delicious dinner the company spent the evening with a highly entertaining interchange of anecdote and experiences. The guests included Messrs. J. F. MacDonnell of Pasadena, Franklin Biederman, C. F. Gray, George B. Morgridge, C. W. Jones and J. D. Mackerras.

CUT CITY EXPENSES

Monrovia May Have to Adopt Drastic Measures to Put City on Its Feet

Elimination of municipal offices, consolidation of others and reductions of salaries are recommended by Monrovia's special committee of twenty business men appointed to help the trustees solve the puzzle which confronts them. In addition to effecting these savings in operating expense, the committee recommends that funds be provided for street repairs and improvement with a bond issue of $55,000. The street work is regarded as absolutely necessary and there are no funds available for the purpose.

Among the streets recommended to be improved is White Oak avenue, which is Monrovia's link in the Foot-hill Boulevard. Autoists will hope devoutly that the recommendation is adopted so it will no longer be necessary to bump the bumps when passing through.

With street maintenance and repairs provided for by the plan suggested it is thought that the economies recommended will serve to tide over the practically bankrupt condition of the city as well as affording a more efficient form of government. The committee, of which Augustus Adams is chairman, made the following recommendations:

That bonds be voted for street improvements to the amount of $55,000, to be expended as follows:

That White Oak avenue be paved with asphaltum or other first-class pavement from city limits to city limits, the estimated cost of which is placed at $60,000. Of this sum one-half to be paid out of the bond issue, namely, $30,000, and the other half to be paid by the property owners on said street under the bond act permitting the property owners to pay for their part of the improvement in ten annual payments.

That the remaining proceeds of the bond issue, $25,000, be used for rebuilding the balance of the streets of the city as follows: That the first year $10,000 be used for the reconstruction of such streets as are most urgently in need of repair, and that the remaining $15,000 be used over a period of five years at the rate of $3,000 each year, and that during said five years the city expend out of the general fund the sum of $2,000 each year, making available for this period the sum of $5,000 each year, which it is estimated by your city engineer to be sufficient to rebuild every street in Monrovia.

The consolidation of all city departments under one head, making the head of the City Engineer's department the head of the street, water, engineer and other departments.

The elimination of canyon guard and the appointment of a special guard to serve Sundays, holidays, and during other occasions when circumstances warrant.

The reduction of the salary of City Recorder from $50 per month to $10 per month.

That the salary of the health officer be eliminated and that a Board of Health consisting of five members to serve without pay be appointed by your board.

CASHED ANYWHERE

Postal Money Orders More Convenient Under New Rule As to Payment

The post office department announces important change in regard to domestic postal money order, a new regulation providing that such orders can be cashed in any office in the country if presented within thirty days. The new arrangement has this drawback—in case of an order being lost a person must wait thirty-six days before a duplicate can be issued, but the conveniences are great.

By the act of congress approved February 5, 1914, on and after July 1, 1914, domestic postal money orders shall be paid in accordance with the following rules and regulations:

"1. All domestic money orders shall be made payable at a designated money order office as at present, but those issued at any money order office in the continental United States, excepting Alaska, may be paid at any money order office in the continental United States, excepting Alaska, if presented for payment on or before the expiration of the thirtieth day following the date of issue. If presented after that date and within one year from the last day of the month in which issued, they shall be paid only at the office designated in the money order as the paying office, or repaid at the office of issue.

"2. When a money order is paid at an office other than that designated as the paying office, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 1 of this order, the postmaster at the office making the payment shall immediately send to the postmaster at the issuing office a notice of the payment, which shall describe the money order by its serial number, amount and date of issue and of payment. Upon receipt of the notice the postmaster at the issuing office shall file it with the application for the money order, and send at once to the postmaster paying the order an acknowledgment of the receipt of the notice, which acknowledgment shall include a statement to the effect that an application for a duplicate has not and will not be certified. Until such acknowledgment is received the paid order shall not be credited, but shall be considered as part of the cash on hand.

"3. To guard against the possibility of paying a money order more than once, the postmaster at the office of issue shall not certify to an application for a duplicate prior to the expiration of the thirty-sixth day following the date the original order was issued. An application for a duplicate shall be certified at once, however, if the applicant or the person in whose favor the application is made executes a good and sufficient bond of indemnity in a penal sum not less than twice the amount of the order, conditioned for the refund of the amount paid on the duplicate so issued in the event that after payment any other person shall establish a valid claim to the original order."

WHO GETS THE LAUGH?

Many of the friends of J. H. Wright have been worried over the report that he had wagered fifty plunks that Frederick would be elected governor. While willing to admit that it was good politics to show loyal confidence, they hated to see him throw away good money in such large chunks for the purpose. They may rest at ease, however. It was only a joke. The question is, who gets the laugh? It came about thus: On a late car from Los Angeles Wright was indulging in his favorite recreation of distributing Frederick's campaign cards. In response to a passenger who asked some question as to the identity of the candidate, he enumerated the good qualities of Frederick whose election he regarded with such certainty that he would be willing to wager $50 on it. Gottfred Peterson, who is as good a Socialist as he is a carpenter, was sitting near and that sounded good to him.

"Excuse me," he interposed. "I'm a little deaf, but didn't I understand you to say you would bet $50 on Frederick?"

"That's what I said," replied Wright. "Well, I'm a Socialist and no great admirer of Johnson, but Frederick can't beat him and I'd like to take that bet," said Peterson. "I have only about $5 with me now but Mr. Welsher here knows me and I'll post it with him and meet you any time you say and put up the rest of the $50."

So an appointment was made for 10 o'clock the following morning to post the balance. Next day Peterson was on hand at the appointed time and place with $45 more in yellow metal. After waiting in vain for some time he went over to the grocery store when the stake holder handed over the original $5 and said:

"Here's your money. He didn't mean anything by that talk—he was just joking."

SPRINTERS SHINE

Sunday's game between Sierra Madre and the Groman & Coe team was a great event for the swimmers and the sprinters, the visitors winning by a score of 11 to 6. For people who like to see the pill pounded and the runners romp around the bases it was a great event.

FALSE ALARM OVER PRIMARY BALLOT'S SIZE

Voters should not allow themselves to be disturbed over misleading reports regarding the size of the primary ballot. News that 700 candidates had filed nominating petitions with the county clerk afforded opportunity to some alarmists to find fault with the primary law. The law is not perfect but no good purpose can be served by misrepresenting it. Much that has been printed about the size of the ballots at the coming primary indicates either willful intent to deceive or lamentable ignorance on the part of persons who are supposed to enlighten instead of befuddle the public.

While there may be 700 candidates in the county it must be remembered that this list includes candidates for township justices, county supervisors and assemblymen, who are elected by districts, as well as county committeemen. Moreover, the list includes candidates of all parties for those offices not filled on a non-partisan basis. No one voter can take part in nominating candidates of any party other than that with which he registers, and for non-partisan candidates. And the ballot given him when he goes to the polls will contain only the various candidates for his party nominations and for non-partisan offices.

Ballot Will Be Simple.

Appalling as that list of 700 candidates might appear at first glance, it is readily seen that the individual voter will have no reason to fear the complexity of the ballot. There will be no propositions on the primary ballot. Constitutional amendments, initiative and referendum measures will appear on the ballot at the November election.

Analysis of the list of candidates for a typical district shows the fallacy of the hue and cry over the number of candidates. Non-partisan and party candidates for all positions number 136. Of these 51 are candidates for non-partisan offices. When the voter goes to the polls he will receive a ballot containing the names of his party candidates and of candidates for offices filled on non-partisan basis. The voter who did not state his party affiliation when registering will be given a ballot containing candidates for non-partisan offices only.

Republicans Most Ambitious

Republican aspirants for office appear to be most numerous and in the district mentioned the names of 34 will appear on the ballot given to Republican voters. These will include candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, controller, treasurer, surveyor general, board of equalization, United States Senator, Congressman, and seven members of the county central committee. In addition to the 34 party candidates the ballot will contain the names of the 51 candidates for non-partisan offices, including supreme, appellate, superior and justice courts, state superintendent, district attorney, sheriff, assessor and supervisor. The Republican ballot will thus be seen to contain the names of 85 candidates for a total of 40 positions.

Candidates of other parties are enumerated as follows: Democrat, 18; Progressive, 18; Prohibition, 8; Socialist, 7. Adding the 51 non-partisan candidates to each the lineup on the various party ballots will be as follows: Democrat, 69 for 37 offices; Progressive, 69 for 37 offices; Prohibition, 59 for 33 offices; Socialist, 58 for 33 offices.

Won With Whips.

According to Herodotus, while the Scythians were away on a long campaign their slaves took the opportunity to rebel and seize all their masters' property. The latter on their return promptly attacked them, but were continually defeated until at last one of them hit on the brilliant idea of attacking the slaves with whips only. That, he said, would remind them of their origin and so cow them that they would never dare to stand. The Scythians followed his counsel, and it fell out as he had predicted. When the slaves beheld their masters riding down upon them flourishing the terrible knotted whips they knew so well they threw down their arms and fled.

BELL STICKING AT HIS POST

Hon. Charles W. Bell of Pasadena, member of Congress from this district, is a candidate for re-election. He is the only Progressive party candidate. He has resided in the territory now embraced in the 9th Congressional District for the past 37 years. He was engaged in fruit farming and the real estate business for a number of years. He was deputy county clerk, clerk of the board of supervisors, was elected County Clerk, and was twice elected State Senator. In 1912 he was elected as the first Representative in Congress from the new 9th Congressional District.

In the State Senate Mr. Bell introduced the first anti-race-track-gambling bill. He was author of the equal suffrage amendment, and in the extra session of 1911, after the passage of the Suffrage amendment, drafted and managed most of the legislation to establish the new political status of California women. As chairman of the Republican caucus, and chairman of the Public Morals Committee in the State legislature, he forced the bill to abolish the nickel-in-the-slot gambling machines to a successful vote. Also actively assisted in the passage of the local option measure.

Congressman Bell has been constantly on duty here in Washington since the special session was convened April 7, 1913, a period of seventeen months. During that time he has gained much valuable information and the friendship of many members of congress whose votes and influence will be valuable in future work for the 9th Congressional District.

FREAKS IN BASEBALL.

Apparently Clever Plays May Sometimes Be Pure Luck.

Freak plays make baseball humorous, if not interesting. Some of these plays are said to be the result of quick thinking; but, as a matter of fact, most of them are simply luck.

Curious things happen. A ball fell into a tin can, and, it being impossible to get it out in time, can and all were thrown to the baseman. Another ball hit the end of a nail driven through the opposite side of a fence and could not be got down until all the runners scored.

A swift hit glances off the pitcher's hand, is snapped up by an infielder and thrown to first, putting the man out.

Red hot liners or grounders sometimes hit the first or third base bag and glance away for singles or even two baggers.

The shortest two bagger known was when the ball grazed the bat, shot up a few feet and fell in front of the plate. As the catcher reached for the twirling ball it glanced from his glove and bounded back to the stand, and the batter made second easily.

A center fielder saw a mit in the way of the shortstop and walked about sixty feet in to move it out of the way when he heard the crack of the bat and saw a hot ball coming straight at him. He could do nothing but try to catch it and did to his surprise. But he was given credit by the crowd for being a great student of batters.—Arthur Macdonald In American Physical Education Review.

Our First Cent.

The first American cent was struck off and put in circulation in 1783. Previous to that date pattern pieces had been made, but they were experiments only and were never put in circulation. The so called Washington cents, which existed previous to the date above given, were not issued by the government and were, therefore, only medals. The cent of 1793 was very similar to the large copper cents of later date, with the exception that the face of Liberty was turned to the right and the legend "One Cent" was inclosed in a chain of thirteen links.

Two Speeds In Same Wheel.

The top of a carriage wheel in passing along the road moves more quickly through the atmosphere than the bottom. This sounds absolutely foolish, but it is absolutely sound. It is due to the movable axis, or axle. The top of the wheel has forward motion plus forward revolution. The bottom of the wheel has the same forward motion minus backward revolution.—London Saturday Review.

Mastery.

A man must challenge the world at its own games and win before he can show the world that there are finer games to play. He cannot stand above the mists and call the crowd to him, but many will follow him up through the mists.—Will Lexington Comfort.

Postcards at the News Printery

WOOLWINE'S IDEA OF REAL JUSTICE

In his address "Equal Enforcement of the Law," delivered before a score of audiences all over the county, Thomas Lee Woolwine has expressed ideas greatly at variance with common practice in prosecutor's offices. And those who know Woolwine know that if he is elected District Attorney he will make good on his campaign declarations. His fundamental principle is that a prosecutor's chief duty is not so much to secure convictions as simple justice. Typical sentences from his address follow:

"A man who occupies the position of district attorney has in his keeping the lives and liberties of his fellow human beings. Ever since the dawn of civilization men have died for those things. He who will weigh them against political advancement is an anarchist."

"There is nothing so much the matter with the law—the trouble comes in its administration. If you make a rule and only make a few people abide by it, and give others immunity, the rule is not wrong, necessarily, but the person charged with its enforcement."

"The easiest job I ever had handed me in my life was to send a poor man to prison. I have seen them stand before the bar of justice and plead guilty; do you suppose they would do that if they had their pockets full of money? But I never in my life let a man plead guilty unless I thought he ought to be sent to prison."

"It ought not to be possible for a man to think he is above the law in this country."

JUDGE MORRISON'S RECORD

(Authorized Statement)

The friends of Judge Willis L. Morrison, Department 6, Superior Court, who is a candidate for re-election, are urged to activity this week in all sections of Los Angeles county. Judge Morrison is busy on the bench and is giving little attention, therefore, to his race. He has entrusted the details of the canvass to his personal friends and those interested in seeing him returned to the judiciary, to which he seems most suited.

The Pasadena has made a splendid record. To his department have been assigned some of the most important cases, and in almost every instance lawyer and litigant have been satisfied that a fair and impartial hearing has been had as to the facts and the evidence.

Judge Morrison is especially noted for giving close application to his judicial work. He is tireless in his efforts to get every bit of evidence worked out that might have a bearing on the ultimate result.

Judge Morrison, being a graduate of Princeton University and of the Harvard Law School, is richly endowed so far as educational requirements are necessary, for duty in the law and the judiciary. Coming to California immediately following his law graduation, he at once became active in legal and civic affairs. Rapidly his practice grew and his influence broadened.

Judge Morrison was appointed a member of the State Industrial Accident Board in 1911, and his services were of great value to the state.

The disputes between employer and employee were taken up by him and threshed out to the satisfaction of both sides. Not a single complaint of inaction was heard during the incumbency of Judge Morrison. Whenever a leader was needed he was on the scene with his sleeves rolled up. The Compensation Act is on the statute books because of his indefatigable labors in its behalf. Step by step he followed this measure through the legislature until it became a law. An avalanche of amendments swooped down upon the bill. Coolly and with wise discretion, Judge Morrison straightened out the tangle, enabling the friends of the act to gain a victory.

He aided in the success of much of the legislation in behalf of the people of the state.

The Ancient Stone Slingers.

It has been said that Asiatic nations excelled others in the use of the sling, and the slingers of an ancient army used their little weapons with terrible effect. "These natives have such skill," says one old historian, "that it very rarely happens that they miss their aim. What makes them so great in the use of the sling is the training given them from their earliest years by their mothers, who set up a piece of bread hung at the end of a rod for a target and let their children remain without food until they have hit it, when the child who is the victor receives the bread as the reward of his skill and patience."

Forgetting the Wrong.

Caesar was so ready to forgive that even Cicero, who was by no means a constant friend to him, relates, as a singular proof of his noble heart, that he never used to forget anything except the wrong done to him. Indeed, to pardon is a most beautiful revenge; but to forget is still more beautiful.—Petrarch.

EDITORIAL CHAT

Sounds Good—

Over in Pasadena somebody started the slogan: "Try your home merchant first." It has taken hold, as it should. That is all the merchant asks, and that is about the least the customer can do if he has any pride or interest in his home town.

Too Much Johnson—

If there is anything you don't like about California legislation of the past four years "Johnson did it." If anything good has been accomplished in California in that time, "The Republicans did it." If you don't believe either of those statements just ask any of the Fredericks-Otis brand of Republicans.

They Ought to Know—

More than a thousand of the 1500 inmates of a Pennsylvania penitentiary petitioned the legislature to give that state prohibition. They attribute 70 per cent of all crime to liquor. They ought to know.

Just a Few More—

Next year the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges will hold a convention in Los Angeles. Here's a guess that if all the rest of the real estate men in the country come to Los Angeles they will increase the number already there by about fifty per cent.

Need an Alarm—

With the cool, foggy mornings Sierra Madre has been enjoying this summer the man who has made it his habit to "arise with the sun" must change his system or run the risk of missing his car.

Chance for Fame—

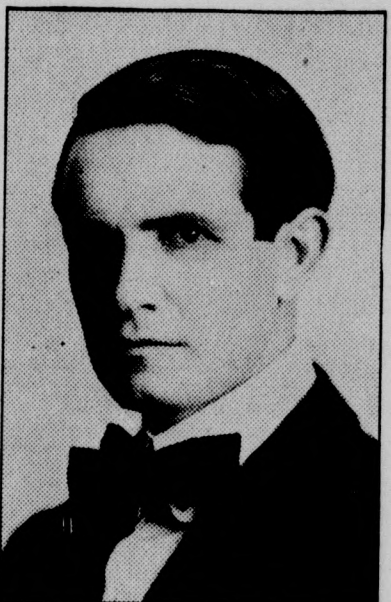

Sierra Madre should have in the not distant future an outdoor auditorium, a place where large assemblies could be held by day or night. Colloquially they are known as Greek theaters, but Sierra Madre could omit the classic colonnade or wall in favor of a more beautiful natural background with our mountains for the "back drop." Who would like to win fame and the community's gratitude by contributing a few thousands for the purpose? (There's no real estate rakeoff to this scheme of mine.) One at a time, gentlemen—and ladies.
